DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 20 are presented for the examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1 – 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Tang et al. [hereinafter as Tang], US 2001/0041943 A1.

4. As to claims 1, and 10, Tang discloses a system and method for remote in system programming of device [remote system] over pager network [wireless network, a radio channel, fig. 2] comprising:

- a. a communication port[602, antenna];
- b. a data transceiver [601];
- c. a processor [605, microprocessor] for communicating over the communication port [602];
- d. reprogrammable memory [609, EPROM] programmed with instructions to cause the device to receive new program code from the pager network [wireless network, a radio channel] and reprogram the memory with the new program code [programming signals are transmitted through an antenna][para 006, 0007, 0008, page 1; para 0023, 0028 on page 2].

Art Unit: 2185

5. As to claim 6, Tang discloses a portable and handheld device capable of communications over a pager network [[wireless network, a radio channel]and device being remotely reprogrammable [in-system programmable system which can be reprogrammed by remote access, para 0006 on page 1] reprogrammed by remote device] over the pager network [wireless network, a radio channel] to acquire new [updated] functionality:

- a. a substantially closed housing [it is inherent to cellular system];
- b. a data transceiver [601];
- c. an antenna [602];
- d. a single-board computer located inside a housing [it is inherent to cellular system] comprising:
 - (i) a microcontroller [600] that includes a processor [605, microprocessor], RAM [607], and Flash memory [609, EPROM];
 - (ii) a serial port [804]
 - (iii) a serial transceiver [it is inherent to the system with serial port for serial communication];
 - (iv) a serial connection [404, TXD, RXD];
 - (v) instructions stored in flash memory [609, EPROM]to cause the single board computer to receive new program code [programming signal received through antenna] from pager network through the data transceiver board and to reprogram flash memory with new program code such that once reprogrammed the device has new [upgraded] functionality para 006, 0007, 0008, page 1; para 0023, 0028 on page 2][fig. 7, 8].

Art Unit: 2185

6. As to claim 15, Tang discloses a portable device that is reprogrammable through a pager network [wireless network, a radio channel], the device comprising:

- a. means for processing [605, microprocessor];
- b. means for communicating [602, antenna] with pager network [wireless network, a radio channel]; and
- c. means for [program instructions in EPROM]causing the device to receive new program code from the pager network [wireless network, a radio channel] through the means for communicating with pager network and to reprogram the means for storing data [609, EPROM] with new program code [updated] to give the device new functionality [upgraded][para 0006, 0008, fig. 6].

7. As to claims 2, and 11, Tang discloses a serial port [804, serial port] for connecting the device to another electronic device [fig. 8].

8. As to claims 3, 7, 12, and 16, the electronic device is enclosed in a plastic snap-fit enclosure [it is inherent to cellular device].

9. As to claims 4 - 5, 13 - 14, and 17, Tang discloses a single board computer [fig. 8].

10. As to claim 18, Tang discloses the means for processing comprises a microcontroller [801, microprocessor]

11. As to claims 8 - 9, and 19 - 20, it is inherent to microcontroller [microprocessor core] to have 8 - bit or 16 bit data.
